NOTES

We live in a world that is utterly corrupted by sin. It surrounds us in the neighborhoods we live, the schools and workplaces we attend, and in the relationships we choose to keep. If we desire not associating with people that are corrupted by it, we "would have to leave the world" (1 Cor. 5:10). Instead, God's plan is that we live in this sinful world without making exclusive partnerships with those in it, but choose deep connections with the people of faith instead. The one will draw you away from God, the other to Him. The one will encourage sinful thinking and behavior, while the other will call you out on it. This decision will seem to limit your pool of those you closely partner with and even your opportunities, but your Heavenly Father knows all that you need and is actively caring and working for your good.
