

Ecclesiastes

Fear, Need, Distraction

5:1-9

God is frighteningly _____ and _____ . It would be wise to treat Him with the _____ He deserves.

5:10-17

The pursuit of money will not bring _____ and will instead only increase your _____ of it.

5:18-20

If you're lucky, money may _____ you well, but only as a _____ from the meaninglessness of this life.

The God of the universe is not the type of person to be treated lightly. He is far too powerful and far too ready to use that power. The only proper response is a healthy dose of reverence and respect. A life lived in pursuit of money, on the other hand, deserves no such respect. Wealth fools us into believing that, with the right amount, it might just pay off. In the end, it only keeps increasing the bill moving the goalposts farther and farther away. On the other hand, if this life in this world is ultimately pointless, it might help you forget that grim reality for a time.

Ecclesiastes

Fear, Need, Distraction

5:1-9

God is frighteningly _____ and _____ . It would be wise to treat Him with the _____ He deserves.

5:10-17

The pursuit of money will not bring _____ and will instead only increase your _____ of it.

5:18-20

If you're lucky, money may _____ you well, but only as a _____ from the meaninglessness of this life.

The God of the universe is not the type of person to be treated lightly. He is far too powerful and far too ready to use that power. The only proper response is a healthy dose of reverence and respect. A life lived in pursuit of money, on the other hand, deserves no such respect. Wealth fools us into believing that, with the right amount, it might just pay off. In the end, it only keeps increasing the bill moving the goalposts farther and farther away. On the other hand, if this life in this world is ultimately pointless, it might help you forget that grim reality for a time.

