

Colossians 3:12-14

Put On

YOU HAVE A HEART...

...SO WEAR IT.

...of _____ toward the misfortunes of others...

...of selfless _____

...that _____ puts others above yourself...

...that is _____ towards others...

...that _____ endures when others make it hard by _____ with their behavior and _____ the hurts go...

...that expresses God's _____ to those around you...

Which of these have you not put on yet? Which one of these have you been having a wardrobe malfunction with lately?

We have been chosen for an entirely new life in Christ. It is nothing like our old life. Where there was self-interest, now there is compassion. Where there was a people-pleasing niceness, now there is an others-serving kindness. Where there was self-centeredness, now there is humility and gentleness. Where there was limited tolerance, now there is limitless patience and forgiveness. Where there was love that was subject to the whims of our emotions, now there is love that seeks the best for others in spite of how it feels.

These are all quite foreign to this world and to our former life. But the former has died and the brand-spanking new is here. Let's let it shine!
